

QUALIFYING REASONS FOR AN EMERGENCY LEAVE DAY

The worker has a current diagnosis of COVID-19.

The worker is caring for another person who has COVID-19 or who is under a quarantine related to COVID-19.

The worker is quarantined (including self-imposed quarantine), at the instruction of a health care provider, employer, or government official, to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

The worker is caring for a child or other individual who is unable to care for themselves due to the COVID-19-related closing of their school, child-care facility, or other care programs.

It also defines other key terms including “eligible individual,” which is someone who was working in the thirty days before they were impacted by COVID-19.
