Workforce Management Solutions

So you can focus on your core business

Tilson provides companies of all sizes with modern and simple HR services to address their workforce needs and scale their growth.

Why Tilson?

From getting out of the home office to making that first hire and beyond – companies may be at different stages in business, however, they all have one thing in common: plans to grow and grow fast.

Our professional employer (PEO) model allows owners to free up valuable time from the headaches of everyday employment burdens so they can focus on pushing their company forward.

HR administration was likely never the reason you set out to launch your own business.

More likely, you were driven by opportunities to disrupt the market, solve problems, make lives better and turn your ideas into reality.

Not having the right people on board, lack of focus and premature scaling are reasons many companies struggle to scale. Thankfully, Tilson's workforce management services provide solutions for each of these concerns, so you can keep your company driving and thriving in any competitive market.

Fortune 500-level Benefits

It's a dog-eat-dog world competing for top talent. Finding and retaining the best people in your emerging market means being able to offer premium benefits like top health care providers and plans, employee assistance programs (EAP), 401k retirement plans, life insurance and short- and long-term disability coverage.

Hassle-free Payroll

Gone are the days of payroll questions and stress. Tilson's experienced staff and modern electronic processes simplify payroll administration and tax filings and deductions. We accommodate all employee types and payment frequencies so you can refocus on the ideas that drive growth and profitability.

Comprehensive HR Administration

Tilson helps businesses scale by partnering to take care of the mounting operations that require resources, time, money and specialized expertise. From new hire onboarding, handbook creation and compensation design to policies and procedures – let us be administrators so you can be an innovator.

Protective Risk Management & Regulatory Compliance

Tilson offers businesses a partner that can navigate the ever-changing – and often confusing – regulatory waters, where missteps can be both legally and financially risky. We keep clients protected and up to date on all existing and potential employment regulations and reporting practices. By keeping you ahead of the game, you can be on top of your market.

Modern Technology Platform

Tilson's modern HR technology and tools can limit your organization's large capital expenditures on software and administrative costs. We provide employer and employee online HR portals to help you manage your workforce data, and our learning management system (LMS) can help to schedule, assign and track web-based employee training courses. Our Knowledge Center is a resource hub that offers the latest and greatest insights from the world of work.

Talent Management

In an era where employee turnover is at a 17-year high and skills gaps are tightening, companies must offer employee training programs, competitive benefit packages and a modern workplace culture to attract, retain and develop their greatest asset – their people. Tilson helps to ensure you have the right team through our employee management system, which focuses on every stage of the employment life cycle – Find, Develop, Direct, Motivate and Retain.

"Tilson has been a great partner with us from the very beginning. They have been able to provide significant value at different stages of growth, and the team has been great to work with. In a fast-paced growth environment, it's great to have a partner like Tilson that we know we can count on."

David DeRam
CEO, Greenlight Guru

"As a startup company you look for ways that can help you scale the fastest with the greatest results for your employees. Tilson provides an effective and affordable vehicle for us to cover HR needs and offer large company benefits while on a start-up budget. As we have scaled they have done a nice job of providing other services and options. They have been a great partner!"
